Beauty and the Beast

Preposition Practice

by Donna Reish

About This Book

Aboard, about, above. along, among, around....

Whether your kids sing them, recite them, chant them, rap them, or write them...prepositions are important.

I learned them in chant-like form when I was in school. However, I never knew WHY I needed to learn them.

This book will teach kids prepositions—in a way that focuses on the WHY, that is, what prepositions really do!

AND with the fun story line of the beloved Beauty and the Beast characters.

Our kids (and we!) need to learn prepositions for a few important reasons:

- (1) They are the beginning of prepositional phrases
- (2) Prepositional phrases can be mentally eliminated from a sentence in order to get to the bare bones of the sentence...since the sentence's main subject and main verb are not usually found in prepositional phrases, This concept is imperative for subject-verb agreement solutions.
- (3) Prepositional phrases are good to use as openers—especially lengthy ones—as they vary sentence structure and rhythm.

I'm all about songs, jingles, rhymes, recitation, and mnemonics for learning parts of speech (and really anything). (My books are full of them---FANBOYS for coordinating conjunctions; Be, a Helper, Link Verbs song; Preposition Check Sentences; Subordinate Clause Opener rhyme; and much more!)

However, when prepositions are learned in songs or recitations, the real reasons for prepositions are overlooked. (Not to mention that they learn about thirty of the over two hundred prepositions....not enough memorized preps to adequately recognize them in sentences and use them for sentence openers!)

That is, students can chant a long list of words, but they do not know how to use them.

Enter this Beauty and the Beast Preposition Practice! I use tricks. I use check sentences. I even use toys—a character from the book/movie AND a large castle---to teach prepositions (and practice them).

Students can use either the black and white “toys” or the colored ones (a large castle and six beloved characters from Beauty and the Beast). Consider how much faster it will be for your kids to learn prepositions with these learning tools:

Beast ran _____ the castle.

1. aboard - Beast ran aboard the castle.
2. about - Beast ran about the castle.
3. above - Beast ran above the castle.
4. across - Beast ran across the castle.
5. across from - Beast ran across from the castle.
6. behind the castle - Beast ran behind the castle.
7. below the castle - Beast ran below the castle.
8. beneath the castle - Beast ran beneath the castle.
9. beside the castle - Beast ran beside the castle.
10. by the castle - Beast ran by the castle.

But all of the methods within this Beauty and the Beast Preposition Practice have one thing in common: they focus on the PURPOSE of the preposition—to show spatial relationships or time.

This 100+ page downloadable book has eighteen lessons (with student assignments) introducing prepositions in a systematic order: initial letter, with the castle and characters, as opposites, as synonyms, as compound words, with time, and more.

This book also has a jam-packed Appendix section:

Appendix A: Colored and Black and White Beauty and the Beast Pictures to Use for Student’s Preposition Practice

Appendix B: Think Fast Quiz Preposition Practice for Beginning and Intermediate Students

Appendix C: Think Fast Quiz Preposition Practice for Advanced Students

Appendix D: Complete Preposition Lists in Categories and in Total (over ten pages of preposition lists!)

When you use this packet, your student will learn prepositions by the boatload—but they will also learn them for their purpose—and have fun as they do!

A person becomes a good student and an effective learner when he or she learns how he or she learns! For example, some people study for a test by making note cards; others like to recite facts aloud while studying; others learn best just by reading the textbook over and over.

Character Ink materials will help you become a better learner by teaching you different learning strategies--and you can use the one(s) that work best for you.

For example, in learning prepositions, you may use your "Preposition Practice Pal" (PPP) from earlier. Or you could memorize them in alphabetical order. Or you could learn them in categories, like beginning letters or opposites.

For example, did you know that there are many as fifty prepositions that begin with the letter A alone?*

<> 2c. Get out your Preposition Practice Pal (PPP) and castle and see how many of the A prepositions below will fit into the following sentence:

Beast ran* _____ the castle.

Or use a different character and verb.

Lesson 13: Preposition Practice Pal and Two-or-More Preposition Practice

Prepositions show position!

A preposition shows position of one thing to another thing.

One way that you can learn prepositions is to “show position!”

A person becomes a good student and an effective learner when he or she learns how he or she learns! For example, some people study for a test by making note cards; others like to recite facts aloud while studying; others learn best just by reading the textbook over and over.

Character Ink will help you become a better learner by teaching you different learning strategies--and you can use the one(s) that work best for you.

For example, in learning prepositions, you may use your “Preposition Practice Pal” (PPP) from earlier. Or you could memorize them in alphabetical order. Or you could learn them in categories, like beginning letters or opposites.

You have already practice prepositions with a Beauty and the Beast character--a “Preposition Practice Pal” (PPP)*-- and the castle:

Beast ran...

1. above the castle
2. against the castle
3. along the castle
4. around the castle
5. atop the castle
6. before the castle
7. behind the castle
8. by the castle
9. down the castle
10. in the castle
11. inside the castle
12. into the castle
13. near the castle
14. off the castle
15. on the castle
16. onto the castle
17. outside the castle
18. past the castle
19. 'round the castle
20. through the castle
21. throughout the castle
22. to the castle

23. toward the castle
24. towards the castle
25. under the castle
26. underneath the castle
27. up the castle
28. upon the castle
29. within the castle

Your PPP can be Beast, Belle, Lumière, Mrs. Potts, Chip, etc., and you may change characters for each assignment if you would like.

13. over the castle - Beast ran over the castle.
14. under the castle - Beast ran under the castle.
15. unto the castle - Beast ran unto the castle.

Besides learning prepositions that fit into the “Beast ran” sentence and learning prepositions that begin with certain letters, you can also learn prepositions that are opposites!

After all, prepositions show position, so it makes sense that opposite words are prepositions since many of them show position too.

“Beast ran _____ the castle.”

<> 13a. Read the opposite prepositions listed below.

1. Beast ran above the castle.
2. Beast ran below the castle.
3. Beast ran beneath the castle.
4. Beast ran above the castle.

5. Beast ran atop the castle.
6. Beast ran beneath the castle.

7. Beast ran below the castle.

16. Beast ran off the castle.

17. Beast ran inside the castle.
18. Beast ran outside the castle.

19. Beast ran to the castle.
20. Beast ran away from the castle.

You have probably already noticed that many prepositions are made up of other words. That is, they have one preposition at the beginning and are followed by another preposition. Or they are compound words (like within).

This is another way to learn prepositions—by learning prepositions that are made up of two or more words.

For example, read the prepositions below—the first one of each set is a common preposition that you probably already know. The one(s) beneath that one is a preposition (or more) that is made from the top one.

1. across
*across from
2. ahead
*ahead of
3. away
*away from

- 4. in

Lesson 16: Preposition Review All Categories

Prepositions show position!

A preposition shows position of one thing to another thing.

Get ready to use all that you have learned about memorizing prepositions in this one lesson!

A person becomes a good student and an effective learner when he or she learns how he or she learns! For example, some people study for a test by making note cards; others like to recite facts aloud while studying; others learn best just by reading the textbook over and over.

Character Ink will help you become a better learner by teaching you different learning strategies--and you can use the one(s) that work best for you.

For example, in learning prepositions, you may use your "Preposition Practice Pal" (PPP) from earlier. Or you could memorize them in alphabetical order. Or you could learn them in categories, like beginning letters or opposites.

Think of all of the categories of prepositions that you have learned so far in Character Ink:

1. Beauty and the Beast character and the castle
2. Those beginning with A
3. Those beginning with B
4. Those beginning with other vowels
5. Opposite words (Antonyms)

One other way that students learn prepositions is to learn a lengthy list of them in alphabetical order.

That is how the Character Ink author learned them nearly forty years ago! In this way, students recite prepositions in alphabetical order in a sing-song voice.

As you have probably learned by now, people all learn differently! Reciting prepositions in ABC order is a good way for students who are auditory learners to learn. However, it is not the best way for learning to "use" prepositions because it does not help you understand the purpose of prepositions.

Do you remember your PPP sentence? Beast ran _____ the castle.

A preposition is a preposition when it has an object following it. In the PPP sentence, the castle is the object of the preposition.

The preposition and the object of the preposition together make up the prepositional phrase.

For example, these are all prepositional phrases:

1. aboard the castle
2. against the castle
3. along the castle
4. around the castle
5. away the castle
6. before the castle
7. behind the castle
8. by the castle
9. down the castle
10. in the castle
11. inside the castle
12. into the castle
13. near the castle
14. off the castle
15. on the castle
16. onto the castle
17. outside the castle
18. past the castle
19. 'round the castle
20. through the castle

Teaching Services

Donna Reish, mother of seven grown children, Nonna to ten lovies, and thirty-two year homeschool veteran, is a prolific curriculum writer, blogger, and teacher from Indiana. She graduated from Ball State University with a degree in Elementary Education and did master's work in Reading Specialist following that. Donna began writing curriculum for a publisher out of Chicago specifically for homeschoolers twenty-five years ago. Following the completion of those thirty books over ten years, she and her husband started a small press publishing company writing materials for homeschools and Christian schools. With the surge of digital products, Donna now writes curriculum books that are digital downloads (both secular and faith-based products), bringing her total curriculum products to 120 books of 50,000+ pages. Donna tests all of her books with 50-80 in-person students each year locally before they are published--and this is her real love: Seeing the faces of students who achieve language arts goals that they never thought were possible using her creative, incremental approaches and materials. Donna teaches parents, teachers, and teaching parents about grammar, language arts, writing, reading, learning, and more at her teaching website, Language Arts Lady Blog, and through her videocasts/podcasts, How I Teach & 10 Minute Grammar.
