Kids learn best when the material is something they are interested in. Period. And young children everywhere are loving everything Baby Shark! You can't hum it or show a picture of a shark to a little one without their "Doo Doo Doo" shortly following!

So knowing that kids learn best when they are interested in something, curriculum author Donna Reish has teamed up with illustrator Bren Marie to design three of the most darling readers you will find!

But they are not only darling—they are purposeful and effective.

The approach used to create these readers is a win-win for your emerging readers:

1. The books are vocabulary-controlled. This means that they contain a set number of unique words per book (fewer for the pre-school level and more for the first grade level).
2. Because the books are vocabulary-controlled, the words are repeated throughout the book. This repetition brings familiarity with the words, and this approach will have even your non-reader recognizing words quickly.
3. The books contain a beginning reader approach known as rebus. A rebus is an image above a word that shows what that word is (Baby Shark above the words Baby Shark, for instance). This approach gets your reader reading immediately with the Baby Shark readers. The rebus icons are lessened throughout the series as your student's reading skills increase.
4. These vocabulary-controlled books contain mostly words from primer, kindergarten, and first grade traditional sight word lists (Dolch and Fry). This means that the words your student will encounter in the Sharky reading series will be the same words he is learning at school.

Finally, Sharky has a parent/teacher book that helps the adults in your child's life learn how to help him gain the reading skills needed to succeed in school. This extensive guide will help you know how to help your child build language skills naturally, learn letters and sounds more easily, sound out words with less frustration, build comprehension for strong school skills later, and much more.

Oh, and purchasers of a Baby Shark reader will get a free Baby Shark activity/ coloring book with many of the same words and the same pictures and characters from the books!

Volume I - Preschool

Baby Shark Swims, the pre-school reader, is absolutely darling—and can be read by even your non-reading preschooler and kindergartener thanks to the extensive rebus images above the words! It is colorful and inviting and only contains twenty unique words (used repeatedly in the story since repetition is crucial in learning sight words). It contains under 100 total words and introduces Baby, Mommy, Daddy, Grandma, and Grandpa in a colorful, watery world.

Volume II – Kindergarten

Baby Shark Plays, the kindergarten reader, picks up where Baby Shark Swims left off. This reader contains thirty-three unique words with rebus images above each word the first time that word is used. It contains 110 total words with a little more detailed story line for your emerging reader. It contains the same darling characters from the pre-school reader and adds some of Baby Shark's friends in the colorful world under the sea!

Volume III - First Grade

Baby Shark Sings, the first grade reader, has Baby Shark planning a surprise for Mommy Shark while she plans a surprise for him! This reader contains forty-four unique words with rebus images above the non-primer words the first time each one is used. It contains 150 total words with a story kids will love. And, of course, it ends with a song—and the whole Baby Shark family!

Donna Reish, mother of seven grown children and thirty-two year homeschool veteran, is a prolific curriculum writer, blogger, and teacher from Indiana. She graduated from Ball State University with a degree in Elementary Education and did master's work in Reading Specialist following that. Donna began writing curriculum for a publisher out of Chicago specifically for homeschoolers twenty years ago. Following the completion of those thirty books over ten years, she and her husband started a small press publishing company writing materials for homeschools and Christian schools. With the surge of digital products, Donna now writes curriculum books that are digital downloads (both secular and faith-based products), bringing her total curriculum products to 120 books of 50,000+ pages. Donna tests all of her books with 50-80 in-person students each year locally before they are published--and this is her real love: Seeing the faces of students who achieve language arts goals that they never thought were possible using her creative, incremental approaches and materials. Donna teaches parents, teachers, and teacher parents, about grammar, language arts, writing, reading, learning, and more at her teaching website, Language Arts Lady Blog, and through her videocasts/podcasts, How I Teach.

The Baby Shark Reader Series is the perfect first reader set for emerging readers! First of all, it is darling! Secondly, Baby Shark is popular and the song is catchy! (I'm sure your little one can sing it!) Third, it has a limited number of mostly "first grade" or under base words (taken from the popular Dolch and Fry sight word lists). Fourth, it uses an effective technique called rebus in which some of the words have images above them so the reader is cued with the picture as to what the word says. (This is used extensively in the pre-school book and is lessened through the series based on skill level.) Finally, the Baby Shark Reader Series has a parent/teacher book that helps the adults in your child's life learn how to help him gain the reading skills needed to succeed in school. Oh, and purchasers of a Baby Shark reader will get a free Baby Shark activity/coloring book with many of the same words and the same pictures and characters from the books!
